Foreword

Expanding goals;

To take some steps;

To seek a door;

To reach for higher things;

To strive for the broader view.

PRESIDENT DUGAN

In this sonic-boom space age, this age of population explosion, this period of history when man has developed scientific devices capable of destroying millions--the welfare of mankind is dependent upon an enlightened citizenry. It has been the intent of the faculty and administration to provide the best education possible in order that each and every student at Ellendale State Teachers College may have the intellectual background necessary to combat the forces which might be dangerous to the perpetuation of American democracy. Unquestionably, the generation of man's intellectual energy is our greatest safeguard.

I should like to take this opportunity to express my best wishes to all students and especially to those who will be alumni at the end of the current school year. May the remainder of your college and your professional careers be happy and fruitful.

Highlight of the Pepfest

Homecoming Queen: Ruth Mouw, junior from Ellendale. Attendants (left to right): Ermalene Bentz, senior from Ashley; Virginia Hoffman, senior from Merricourt; Connie Washburn, junior from Edgeley; Marion Carson, junior from Modesto, California.

Homecoming was held October 16 and 17. Principal committee members were Harvey Haakenson, supervising the parade; Gerald Bollinger, producing the pep fest; Lloyd Trautmann, managing the dance. They were assisted by Judy Schock, Bob Davis, Carole Fleck, Luella Wagner, and Melvin Michealis and were advised by Brandon Smith.

Library Book Exhibit

Librarian Al Hunt views some of the material on display during the exhibit held on November 10. Book exhibits are held several times a year and the area residents are invited to attend.

This view of the library suggests the quiet dignity of our center of learning.

Eighth Annual Science Fair

Winners of the senior division were Steve Hamar (left), first place, and Warren Redmond (right), third place. Sherry Sperling won second place with her paramecium experiment. The $100 scholarship at ESTC went to Steve for his exhibit of a human anatomy (from frozen animal parts.) Warren displayed the Jacob's ladder and flourescent lights. All three winners were from Ellendale high school.

College students involved with this event were Wilbert Schlabsz, chairman, assisted by Curtis Burow, Gary Coon, Danny Ferestad, John Gomarko, James Hausmann, Lester Hehr, William Hughes, Brunno Kinzler, Carol Kosel, Helga Larson, Charles McMillan, Corrine Rall, Dennis Schimke, Donald Schlagel, Lloyd Trautmann, Robert Weixel and Robert Wood. Dr. Woliczko was director.

Fourth Annual "Miss Ellendale" Pageant
